Evidence Accumulating Against the Paris Anarchist.

CHILDREN ADDED TO HIS LIST OF OTHER CRIMES.

Which Workmen Preparing for May Day, the Paris Anarchist, is Investigating.

Excitement in the Spanish Senate—General Foreign News.

PARIS, April 1.—The latest crime charged against Ravachol is robbing a church, although the police have not yet given the particulars of this charge. This enlarges the list of his crimes to include dynamite outrages, several murders, counterfeiting, robbery, grave robbing and sacrilege. Now at the police have Ravachol in their hands, information against him is pouring in from many quarters. It appears that until he was arrested many of those who were aware of his misdeeds hesitated to speak, so much was his fear of his vengeance. Now, so much evidence is being piled up against him, that the public is asking whether it is reasonable to the efficiency of the police have such a desperate criminal should have been so long at large in Paris. Ravachol himself has apparently given up all hope of escaping the guillotine and seems inclined to confess his crimes and to accept the punishment which he has acknowledged are enough to give him first rank among the criminal class.

A GRAVE ROBBER.

His grave robberies were among the means of his crimes. It is said that he would "reach for funeral coffins of wealth, and where there were no coffins, he would reach for the bodies of the poor." He is reported to have been seen in the cemetery of St. Denis, near Paris, where he was seen to enter a coffin and to remove the body. PREPARING FOR MAY DAY.

Withstanding the anarchist outrages, things are being held in the Rue de la Fayette for the purpose of organizing the May day demonstration. The matter now for discussion is whether the programme of the demonstration shall be to raise the banner of Labor which consists of twenty-two names of all shades of opinion to a committee formed for the purpose of organizing the demonstration. # SILVER DISCUSSION.

The Whole Subject to Be Gone Over in the Senate.

NO BILL LIKELY TO PASS THE UPPER HOUSE.

Mr. Morgan's Resolution Ocasional Head of the Certain Defeat of Mr. Stewart's Measure—Progress of the Behring Sea Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 1.—The resolution introduced by Senator Morgan in the Senate yesterday has created considerable gossip. Since Senator Stewart gave notice that on next Monday he would call up his free coinage bill, it has become apparent that his motion to take up the measure would likely be defeated. It is shown that at least six Senators who favor free silver would vote against taking the measure up for consideration Monday. In order to offset the almost certain defeat of Mr. Stewart's effort, Senator Morgan introduced his resolution, intending thereby to secure a full and free discussion of the silver question. It has been thought likely that this debate would continue for two or three weeks, as there is no limit to discussion in the Senate. There is a lurking suspicion that Senator Dolph's proposition, made yesterday afternoon, to consider the calendar for two whole days, is an attempt to postpone the Morgan resolution. No objection was made to Mr. Dolph's request for the transaction of business under rules, and after the Indian appropriation bill is concluded, the calendar by unanimous consent, will have the right of way for two days. It is not evident at present whether Senator Morgan's resolution can produce any result beyond a full discussion of the silver question. It provides for no legislation, and it is very doubtful if a motion to take up free coinage bill in the Senate can be passed. Yesterday afternoon Representatives Bland and Pierce came into the Senate Chamber and had quite a lengthy conference with Senators Fugh and Bates. The nature of their conversation could not be ascertained, but in view of Senator Morgan's resolutions, it was conjectured to have a bearing on the coming silver discussion in the Senate.

SOMERSET, Pa., April 1.—While James Beal, a young man, was walking over the Laurel Hill Mountains yesterday and had reached a lonely point he was startled by a loud cry of "halt." Feeling through the bushes he saw an old man and a few yards beyond were two other men with guns leveled at the old man. The command to halt was followed by the report of a gun and the old man was struck in the chest. The two men then rushed upon their victim, clubbed him over the head with the butt of their guns, and then dragged his body away into the woods. Beal fled, and going to the village of Treat told his story and a posse was formed to capture the highwaymen. Jonathan Herestetter, an old man who answers to the description given by Beal, is missing. Herestetter was found last evening in Laurel Hill Creek.

ELEVEN LIVES LOST.

The Steamer Golden Rule Burned Cincinnati Yesterday.

DEATH COMES TO THE UNFORTUNATE BY FIRE AND WATER.

Scenes of Horror Attend the Calamity—Miraculous Escapes and Thrilling Details—List of the Dead—The Boat a Total Loss—Blows Atoms—Other Casualties.

CINCINNATI, O., April 1.—While lying at wharf at the foot of Main street at 6 o'clock last evening the steamer Golden Rule, 111 tons, and flames soon enveloped the fore part of the boat. The steamer was at ready to steam down the river, and had passengers on board beside a number of fire off a panic at once ensued, and a mass of people sprang into the river. Luckily steamer Fleetwood was ranged alongside Golden Rule, and had steamed up ready to pull out. Most of the passengers got on Fleetwood and escaped.

It is estimated that twelve or thirteen lives were lost. So far it has been possible to give the names of eleven known positively have perished. These are:

Mrs. NETTIE MALONEY, Cincinnati.
Miss E. J. HARTSON, Addison.
Mrs. O'LEARY, Cook.
FRANK T. RILEY, male.
ROCK WALKER, deckhand.
WM. HANCOCK, deckhand.
MATT HONAY, deckhand.
Four unknown deckhands.

Had not the Fleetwood been when it was the loss of life would have been appalling. The fire originated on the lower deck of the Golden Rule by one of the deck hands setting a lamp on a barrel of varnish. In a flash flames communicated to the rubbish at the stern of the boat. The boat was not immediately released from the wharf, by reason this the big Sandy wharfboat was so ablaze, and before the fire department could be summoned as hastily as possible, could do anything, was also doomed. The burnt boat soon broke loose from its moorings and started to drift down the stream. By a time it had proceeded 200 feet it was burned to the water's edge. As soon as the fire was discovered the other boats at the landing were cut loose and steered out into the current.

The fire was marked by many thrilling incidents. Witnessed by the thousands of people who congregated on both banks of the river. Miss Nettie Maloney jumped into the river and was drowned. Her body has not been found. She was a widow, and had a daughter, a young lady, who was also in the boat. She was a widow, and had a daughter, a young lady, who was also in the boat.

Several of the deckhands who escaped state that they are positive that there are some bodies still in the water. They are positive that they are positive that there are some bodies still in the water. They are positive that they are positive that there are some bodies still in the water.

RHODE ISLAND is a little State, but it is important to the Democracy this year. It could not be despised because of its size.

THE result of GEORGE BROWN'S lawlessness in the matter of dramsoph licenses is shown in the Harrington saloon case. # WAR ON WENNEKER.

The Collector's Connection With "Tariff Debating Clubs" Being Investigated.

FILLEY'S SHARP REPLY TO CHARGES AGAINST HIS NEW YOUNG FRIEND.

He Denies That He Got the Boodle Which Was Raised by the Clubs Which Wencker Is Charged With Fostering. He Makes Threats Against the "Conspirators" Behind the Investigation.

Will Inform Revenue Collector Charles F. Wencker Be Removed?

This is what the Republican politicians are asking to-day. Advice from Washington goes to show that an investigation of the Tariff Debating Club organized by his employer has been under way for some time and reports have it that his official seal is about to be taken.

As has been explained in the Post-Dispatch the Tariff Debating Club was organized by Charles F. Wencker, collector of the Federal Treasury to relieve the Federal city of the expense of entertaining an invited meeting of the G. A. R. organization.

The expense of such entertainment in other cities is defrayed by popular subscriptions, which are evidence of the hospitable desire of the local population to entertain as invited guests the veterans of the Union army. If the money can not be raised in Washington as it has been in other cities—if the amount must be taken out of the Federal Treasury and the people of the whole Union be taxed for the expense of a G. A. R. meeting in Washington—the visit of the organization to the national capital will be graced by no savor of welcome from local hospitality. It will look more like an uninvited raid.

If Congress votes this appropriation it should, to be consistent, vote to pay the expense of the G. A. R.'s annual meetings in the future wherever they may be held, or even go further and reimburse subscribers to G. A. R. entertainment funds wherever held in the past.

THE French detective is not only largely a creation of the French novelist, but he shares in large measure the gifts of his creator. He never arrests a criminal in a matter-of-fact way, but always entraps, surrounds and captures him after a desperate struggle. The criminal he entraps is never an ordinary criminal, guilty only of the crime for which he was arrested, but is a monster guilty of every crime in the calendar. The Anarchist RAVACRO, for instance, is a Nero whose childhood was spent in torturing animals and whose career is streaked with blood. He was ensnared by a detachment of police, will doubtless be tried in a most dramatic manner, in which the nonchalant devilry of the prisoner and the abusive anger of the judge will play equal parts, to the delight of the populace and his cool, bloodcurdling diabolism when he is thrust under the guillotine's knife will thrill the pulses of the cannibal. The French people do their best to justify their sensational fiction writers.

FOR a paper which maintains that its circulation is "its own private business" the Republic devotes a great deal of space to the discussion of it in its customary indefinite way. One year ago when fifty-one merchants petitioned the Republic to join in a show of circulation, to which the POST-DISPATCH and the Globe-Democrat had already consented, that paper refused to accede to the request. No newspaper which has an honest circulation will decline to submit to an expert examination of its claims where all its competitors agree to such a showing. It is virtually a confession that its unproved claims are false and will not bear investigation. The decreasing patronage shown in the columns of the Republic is evidence of how the public views this method of doing business.

IN Collector WENNEKER had held himself further aloof from FILLEY at Sedalia, the story of the Tariff Debating Society as an assessment dodge would not have attained such reverberatory prominence, and threats of decapitation and prosecution would never have been heard eliciting such ugly disclosures of party secrets from FILLEY. As it is, the Administration's lofty pose and pharisaic frown, with which it scowls at the T. B. R.'s initiation fee and monthly dues, become supremely ridiculous in the light of FILLEY's list of big assessments collected by the Administration's accredited agents.

THE Russians are talking of getting powerful cannon capable of perpendicular elevation to destroy the German balloons alleged to be sailing over the Russian fortifications in Poland with electric searchlights. This would be a splendid thing for the Germans. No more effective way for a fortress to bombard itself could be found. As the balls would return with a velocity equal to that with which they left the cannon, all the Germans would have to do to demolish a Russian fortress and its force would be to sail over it in balloons and let them bang at them.

THE concentration of political steam upon Rhode Island makes it a very hot spot in American politics. Fortunately it is a small one, and the steam will be shut off in a few days. This little political cauldron, however, may have a serious effect upon the fate of the two great parties, and both are working with desperate energy to swing the State into line. Enough big guns have been secured by the State committees to furnish artillery for a presidential campaign.

IT may be that some Mulholland has invented those stories about German balloons sailing at will over Russian fortresses and camps by day, examining them with electric search lamps by night at a height beyond the reach of long range rifles, and returning in safety to the German frontier. They imply that some inventor has solved the balloon-steering problem and sold the secret to the German Emperor. But these stories have yet to be confirmed.

A SUPPLIED CHOR FESTIVAL.

Episcopal Choirs to Inaugurate a New Feature—Religious News.

The organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Mr. J. H. Darby, contemplates holding a church choir festival early in May at the Cathedral. The idea is a new one in this city and is being widely discussed by the members of the various Episcopal church choirs. All the vested choirs in the city will be invited to take part. The occasion will be a novel feature in musical circles. It is the intention to make the festival a picture of a musical event. The choir boys, attired in their snowy robes, will march through the church singing their anthems, and afterwards will be massed in the chancel underneath the lofty organ. The combined chorus of men, boys and ladies from the different Episcopal churches in the city will be very large in number and will be able to render the chants with telling effect.

No steps have been taken as yet to arrange a programme, the choir being busy rehearsing music for holy week and Easter Sunday. As soon as this work is completed the programme will be mapped out and the work of active rehearsing begin. Choir festivals are a recognized feature in Episcopal Churches in the East and in England, where the custom originated. They are always looked upon as great musical events.

Building the New College.

The long looked for erection of the new college church on Grand and Lindell avenues is one of the important church events of the near future. The plans are now complete, and the Jesuit fathers have selected the material for the work. From the pinnacle of the spire, 200 feet high, to the foundation bed, the structure will be of the best St. Louis limestone, with quoins pieces of Indiana blue stone. Bids are now out for the stone work, and when the contracts are let the building will begin at once. It is expected that the work will be well under way by May 1. Mr. Henry B. Switzer, the well-known architect, has carried out the ideas of the late Thomas Walsh in completing the plans. The style of architecture will be pure Gothic. The interior of the church is over two hundred feet deep and sixteen marble pillars support the superstructure. To the right of the entrance on Grand avenue is the room which leads to the tower of the church, and above this is what is called the "luncheon gallery." The main altar is elevated to a considerable distance above the floor of the church, and smaller altars are on each side of it. The building will be the finest ecclesiastical structure in the West, and will add to the city's main boulevard the beauty of the Gothic school of architecture.

Mount Auburn Church Opening.

The opening services in the auditorium of the new Mount Auburn Church have been postponed from next Sunday until April 10. The delay is caused by the inability of the contractor to have the place ready in time. The exercises will take place a week from Sunday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. Finney, Messrs. Woolen and Mathews will assist the pastor, Rev. M. B. Chapman. The edifice is a handsome brick structure, of modern architecture, finished interiorly with white pine and handsomely furnished. A set of stained glass windows and the pipe organ have been put in. The church cost $12,000.

State Sunday-School Work.

Field Agent L. M. Murphy of the State Sunday-School Association has just closed a successful week's campaign in St. Louis County. He is at present in Newton County, whose annual convention will be held next Saturday and Sunday at Neosho. Field Agent J. H. Bryan is booked for a tour through Southwest Missouri in April and May. He will begin in Jackson County on April 5. Field Agent Wm. J. G. G. is booked for a tour through Lincoln County Sunday-school Convention at Kimberley April 5 and 6. The Committee on Programmes for the State Sunday-school Convention is at work and an exceptionally fine programme is in preparation.

Ethical Society Lectures.

The lecturer of the Ethical Society will give "A Talk on Shakespeare's 'Hamlet'" Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in Memorial Hall. Readings will be from the poet Wordsworth. Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Greek Ethics Club will discuss "The Position of Women in the Past and Present Day." The society has received during the past month forty-three applications for active and associate membership, showing an unusual growth for the present season.

House to House Visitation.

Dr. J. W. Ford of the Second Baptist Church has been requested to prepare a paper on the magnitude and importance of the house to house visitation, giving the aims and objects as well as the full details of the work, for the next meeting of the St. Louis branch of the Evangelical Alliance that occurs April 23. The subject will be thoroughly discussed by the attending ministers.

A DUEL FOR SPORT.

Two Bartenders Shot at One Another in Play at Long Range.

A crowd of seventeen young men about town, a number of them bartenders and moon-shiners, went out on an excursion to Creve Coeur Lake yesterday to enjoy themselves. Among the excursionists were Monroe Gulon and James Ketchum, two bartenders employed at Frank & Bryant's saloons on Sixth and Spruce streets. When the party arrived at the lake Ketchum and a friend got into a skiff, but the wind was so strong they could not row against it and called upon Gulon on the bank to help them. He got in the boat, and after rowing it a short distance he pulled up to a pier, jumped out and ran away. Ketchum called upon him to stop but Gulon continued to run. Ketchum had a double-barrelled shot-gun in the boat, and thinking he would scare Gulon and cause him to return he fired one barrel in the air. Gulon continued running, and when about ninety or one hundred yards away Ketchum fired the second barrel at him. The bird shot rattled around Gulon, and some of the pellets struck him, but he was so far away the force had been spent, and they dropped from his clothes. Ketchum, thinking the shot was a good joke, drew his revolver and fired several shots at Gulon's fleeing form, and the runner afterward said he heard the bullets whistle by him. He drew his revolver and returned Ketchum's fire. Ketchum heard the shots strike the ground near him and doled behind a tree, and Gulon continued to pour lead at him until his weapon was empty. They then came together to compare notes, and on finding neither was wounded they got into the skiff again and spent the day on the lake. This morning the same crowd, with a few additions, went out to Creve Coeur to while away another day fishing, but before they started it was generally agreed there should be no dueling, even at 20 yards.

A Black Brute Fined.

Cato Davis, a brutal, coal-black negro, was the most deservingly flogged person in the Second District Police Court to-day. He was fined $200 for an attempt at familiarity with little Addie Lynch, 8 years old, at 9 o'clock last night in the alley between Eleventh, Twelfth and O'Fallon streets and Cass avenue. He stopped the child and was on the point of carrying out his base purpose when he was frightened away by some women in the alley. Officer Farrell of the Third District was informed of the affair and he promptly arrested Davis.
